

Third generation farmer that discovered
Heart & Soil.

My grandfather
Ervin Harrison Weijohn started as a migrant worker picking apples.

This is my father, Ervin Victor Weijohn, who grew up with farming in his blood.

My grandfather believed if he could feed his family and farm he would have arrived

Double-drip

Organic Digester Plus

Timers

Mounding

Microbial action at top of the soil

Good start for plant

Compost

Sawdust

Bark Mulch

Yard debris not in the mound but between rows for future mound application

Weedmat

After the third year

Weeds take off

Pays for itself after the fourth year - it probably does the third year but you won't know it

Pruning

Prune 30%

If you aren't growing toward the 30% need to figure out something so you can

Sprays

In our area we do not need the mildew and black spots on stems
